LETTER from the EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Leslie Forrester
Executive Director

Six beautiful years. That is how long I've had the privilege to serve as the Executive Director of the Springfield Regional Arts Council. (So far!) What a great ride it continues to be. From my chair at The Creamery Arts Center, it is exciting to see what we've been able to accomplish together and thrilling to see what's on the horizon.

This year thanks to the generosity of the Musgrave Foundation and donors with an arts and culture focus at the Community Foundation of the Ozarks, we distributed $39,000 to local and regional nonprofit organizations tackling exciting projects.

The National Endowment for the Arts awarded the SRAC additional funding to test out a new program idea, Community Concerts & Conversations. Through a series of three events, participants explored tough topics in our community: poverty, LGBTQ issues, and racism. In the first year of the series, we had a full house listening to the music and stories of those who identify in these areas. Each story and song were deeply moving and powerful and continues to impact my perspective, both personally and professionally.

We partnered with Springfield Public Schools to host the Springfield Regional Arts Integration Conference. Two days of professional development provided more than 60 teachers, most who are teaching in non-arts subjects, with new tools and techniques using the arts to better understand core subjects like math, science, reading through dance, visual art, and drama.

Looking ahead, we have many opportunities to ensure the arts are a part of all community conversations. The SRAC is working to establish new partnerships with organizations to offer accessible, high-quality arts education experiences for students every week day. In the coming year, we expect to reach 1,000 children, helping them prepare for school, to find their first successes, and instilling a passion for the arts at an early age.

Adding to our advocacy efforts, we will be working through Forward SGF, the City's comprehensive planning process, which will take place over the next 18-24 months. There are lots of great opportunities to share your ideas for the arts in Springfield at community events throughout the process. I've also been appointed to the Forward SGF Advisory Team, so email me your dreams for what the arts and the community at large will look like 20 years from now. Let's dream the big dreams!

Thank you to everyone who has supported our efforts this past year. Members, patrons, sponsors, partners: each of you play a vital role in the work of the SRAC. It would not be possible without your continuing passion and dedication to the arts. I am excited to tackle the big projects this year. I hope you will join me!

LETTER from the BOARD PRESIDENT

Joshua Best
2019-2020 President

As the President of the Board of Springfield Regional Arts Council, I want to thank you on behalf of the Board of Directors for your contributions to the vibrant arts community that continues to grow and thrive throughout the 27 counties in Southwest Missouri that we serve - the largest outreach of any regional arts council in Missouri.

We couldn't accomplish what we do without your steadfast support, your advocacy, your participation, and your enjoyment of the arts scene in our community, in all its myriad forms. We are lucky because we know the intrinsic value that the arts and arts education provide to our quality of life, quality of place, and economic health.

Despite this knowledge and our firm belief that the arts transform lives and enrich our community, it seems we have been called upon to beat the drum even louder, so that these messages reach the ears of those who hold the fiscal reins and determine the placement of earned media.

With that in mind, the SRAC Board of Directors has been hard at work with the Executive Director and staff to develop and implement a new strategic plan that hones our advocacy efforts, expands our brand recognition as the go-to place for arts-related information, and focuses on community listening and service through action, in order to increase representation, diversity, and inclusion throughout our community and our art offerings.

We have achieved so much with the expertise and grit of dedicated staff members, passionate volunteers, and talented teaching artists and artist members. It is with great pride in our accomplishments and a clear sense of the work in front of us that I invite you to continue forward together with us!

In Service,
Joshua Best
